

REFERENCE – drinking water Vocational school Rohrbach 4150 Rohrbach, Austria

Products: CLASSIC

Since 2008, the vocational school in Rohrbach has been certified as a "Healthy School".

As part of the focus on "water is life", a drinking water fountain was made available to the students in the dining room.

The apprentices now have the opportunity to refill their drinking water bottles at the well for free and to consume them everywhere in the house, including in the classroom.

Adequate water supply has a positive effect on learning and concentration. Only those who drink enough and especially the right amount in sufficient quantity, remains physically fit and mentally powerful!

Design, execution and sponsoring of the drinking water fountain made of local granite come from the company Strasser Steine.

A water revitalization device was designed by EWO and the company Wimberger Bau provided it free of charge.

On the occasion of a small celebration and a common lunch with the apprentices of the vocational school the shapely and noble drinking water well was opened.
